Superintendent's Message

Dear Colleagues,

I was honored last week to publish a piece in the journal Education Next depicting the exemplary work being done at Start Elementary School in Richland Parish, which recently earned an "A" rating for annual progress in its students’ skills.

At Start, and at other high-progress schools, administrators and teachers choose curricula that challenge students (incidentally, Lafayette Parish took a similar and well-reported step last week, choosing a suite of top curricula). But these schools do not stop with adoption of curricula. In fact, as the piece I wrote notes, they know that adopting a curriculum is just one, limited step.

So they make curriculum the centerpiece of a plan for professional support that starts with undergraduate residents and continues throughout teachers’ careers. In these schools, professional development and curriculum are tightly linked partners. In-service days, cluster teams, and PLCs are spent learning how to use a curriculum, how to plan to make the most of it each day, and how to achieve stronger student work.

Every school in the state can achieve this level of focus. Hundreds of Content Leaders from school systems around the state have been trained and will soon be certified to serve as experts in teaching specific curricula and to assist teachers in implementing those curricula. Trained and certified Mentors are prepared to provide one-on-one coaching that is specific to their content area and, for ELA and math, high-quality curriculum.

The nomination process for 2019-2010 Mentor Teachers and Content Leaders is currently underway. A nomination template, with separate tabs for both Mentor Teacher and Content Leader nominees, is now available. The deadline to submit the nomination template is April 18, and school systems will be notified about funding for these educators in advance of the April BESE meeting.

This year’s Teacher Leader Summit, and subsequent collaborative trainings across the state, will largely focus on assisting schools in building teams of leaders, principals, Mentors, and Content Leaders, who can lead the daily work of supporting curriculum implementation. This marriage of curriculum adoption and professional support ranks among the most important turns we can make in our schools, a key step to challenging students every day in learning to read, solving complex problems, and building knowledge about the world.

As always, thank you for all you do for our children,

John

Please share with business managers and financial officials.

Meeting yearly Maintenance of Effort (MOE) requirements is part of the business process to confirm compliance and determine eligibility of federal grant funds for ESSA and IDEA grants. The USDOE requires an annual review that determines if each LEA: 1) has not decreased spending of general fund dollars, and 2) is budgeting expenditures to meet the MOE standards.

There are three MOE measurements submitted in the eGMS system:

- 2018 IDEA MOE Confirmation (Compliance Review) deadline for submission is April 30.
- 2020 ESSA MOE Verification updates are in progress and will be available in the near future.
- 2020 IDEA MOE Verification (Eligibility review) updates are in progress and will be available in the near future.

A Heads Up
The Department has enhanced the MOE system to include a technical assistance feature that shows if the LEA has not met the MOE requirement for IDEA. LEAs are encouraged to start early and work through the new technical assistance feature found at the consistency check.
